

WELL AND SEPTIC INFORMATION

The Connecticut State Health Code regulates well and septic system installation. The Health Code is administered by the Farmington Valley Health District, which serves as the health department for the towns of Granby and Hartland. The Health District is located at 95 River Rd. (Rt. 179) in Canton. The Health District's phone number is (860) 352-2333. Most of the Health District's information regarding well and septic systems is available online at the District's website www.fvhd.org. You can use the Document Search feature to find information regarding your property.

Information on wells and septic systems installed prior to the formation of the Health District in 1976 may in some cases be available in the Building Department's files. Information on systems installed prior to the early 1960's is generally not available.

Residents planning to build new structures or add to existing structures may need to receive approval from the Health District prior to the issuance of a building permit for the project. It is important for the Health District to review projects to assure that there will be no conflict between the proposed project and the location of the well or septic system.

You can reach the Building Official at Granby Town Hall Building Department.
