CORING & WALL ACCESS DISCLAIMER

Russ Bassett offers floor coring drawings including measurements for suggested coring locations that correspond to the access points beneath the console walls as a courtesy to our clients.

Please note that Russ Bassett does not offer services for on-site marking, verification, or drilling of core locations.

As a console manufacturer, our installation technicians are specifically certified to install Russ Bassett consoles and are not authorized or qualified to make modifications to your building structure.

We recommend that any measuring, marking, verification, and drilling of core locations be performed by qualified professionals in flooring, electrical, or data services.
